

Senatorial Gossip.

For the past few months it has been the custom of people to laughingly assert that Jewett Adams was pulling the wires for the U. S. Senatorship. No one seemed to be in earnest, but mentioned the matter casually as an illustration of his ambition or gall. The APPEAL can state with authority that Jewett Adams is a candidate for the U. S. Senate and even now is laying the wires with a view of being elected. He recently held a confab with Bob Keating and others in the Washo Club rooms relative to the matter and a plan of operations was outlined. The recent expressions of opinion from the papers and his outraged constituency was alluded to with a view to adopting the best means of counteracting it. He said it would all blow over in a little while and so far as the newspapers were concerned they weren't running this State, and he didn't care for them anyhow.

A very curious libel suit has just been decided in a Missouri court. In the town of Marshall, Mo., were three boys named Potter, Finley and Beggs, and about a year since they were swimming in Blackwater creek, near the town, and young Potter was drowned. There were no witnesses of the occurrence except his two companions. His father at once accused them of drowning his son, and although he had no way of proving this belief, he stoutly insisted that the boys were guilty. Shortly after the funeral he obtained from a St. Louis marble dealer a gravestone bearing the inscription:

"Rock of ages, cleave for me.
Let me hide myself in Thee."
Drowned by Finley, Potter and Beggs.

Finley and Beggs naturally were considerably offended at this, and brought suit for $3,000 damages. The jury, however, thought this too much, and gave a verdict of $800 in their favor.

The hackmen of San Francisco, or some of them, have organized "The United Undertakers' Association," and propose to bury people at reduced rates. They have evidently quarreled with the undertakers over the price of hacks attending funerals. They asked the coffin manufacturing company if it would sell coffins to the association, and were answered in the negative, hence it will manufacture coffins themselves or import them. It is a very pretty quarrel as it stands, and may prove a financial benefit to the relatives of deceased persons.

A new technicality has been raised that may do away entirely with legal hanging for murder in this State. In the cases of the two murderers, Hurtado and Raten, tried in Sacramento, the jury in each case brought in a verdict of guilty, but did not fix the penalty. Now, the murderer's counsel claim that the verdict is illegal, and both cases will again go to the Supreme Court. So far as doing away with protection to law abiding people the lawyers and juries may now be regarded as among the dangerous classes. —[Stockton Mail.]

Benevolence of George Hearst.
The establishment of a home for feeble-minded children is destined to fill a long felt want, and it is to be hoped that the movement will receive a more generous support from the citizens than that accorded the benevolent Mr. Hearst in his establishment of the Examiner as a home for feeble-minded old men. —[S. F. Exchange.]

The Virginia Chronicle says it is reported that Werrin and Kaneen have agreed upon a dual alliance against Matt Canavan in the Board of Storey County Commissioners. If it was a question of brain, it would require about a thousand brace of Commissioners like those to make a showing against the intellectual prowess of old Matt. —Mining News.

It transpires that the "job" that was being "put up" by two of our local political chiefs yesterday was to remove the whole town of Eureka to Carson. The people could be more easily managed if they were nearer the legislative chambers. —Eureka paper.

No one here wants Eureka unless the town is thoroughly fumigated before the moving.

Coal Mine on Fire.

LINCOLN, Cal., July 26.—The large, new bunkers and hoisting works of the Copper coal mine at this place was discovered to be on fire this morning about 5 o'clock. The men working in the mine were immediately notified to come out, and all easily made their escape. In the meantime, the fire had got under such headway that the whole new works were doomed to destruction. There were four loaded cars standing alongside the bunkers. The section men got to the works in time to save three of the cars, but owing to the falling timbers one could not be got out and was burned. The loss will be heavy to the owners, who had just got everything in good shape to make the mine pay. Mr. Landis, the principal owner and manager, has the sympathy of the entire community. All openings to the mine are being closed up, and it is not yet known how far down the main shaft the fire has gone, but it is thought and hoped that the mine may be saved. Insurance $5,000 in the Fremont Fund.

Sharks in New York Bay.

New York, July 27.—New York Bay, just now, is full of sharks. The oldest boatmen and fishermen cannot remember any summer when these ugly visitors were so numerous or so large. Huge fellows, with large dorsal fins like the center boards of sail boats, can be seen gliding stealthily near the surface of the water. They travel in the wake of garbage scows, and great numbers of them can be seen in the neighborhood of the dumping grounds. They also hunt some of the favorite fishing grounds and completely spoil all sport.

The Multicharge Gun.

New York, July 27.—Senator Jones of Nevada is a stockholder in the Multicharge Gun Company, which has just finished and shipped its first gun to New York for trial. Ex-Senator Platt of New York, one of the Trustees, says: "I have little doubt the gun will pass the tests successfully. It has already been tried on a small scale, and the principle has been found to be correct. The gun will reach here the first of next week, and tests will be made soon afterwards."
